

4 ▶ Greenwich, Conn. Completed in 1912, this seven-bedroom English Tudor-style home is downtown and walking distance from the train to New York City. The house features high ceilings, a walnut-paneled butler's pantry, quarter-sawn oak floors, French doors, and two fireplaces. The 1.3-acre property is set back and includes a koi pond, a stone three-car garage, and a pool with a bluestone patio. $2,850,000. John Bates, Houlihan Lawrence, (203) 249-2023

5 ▲ Santa Fe This 1915 California-style bungalow was the first of its kind in the region and is a state Registered Cultural Property. The home has Brazilian ipe floors, a chef's kitchen, French doors, built-in bookshelves, and wood details throughout. A wraparound enclosed sun porch looks out on the 0.3-acre property, which features garden seating around a stone fireplace. $890,000. Victoria T. Murphy, Sotheby's International Realty, (505) 660-5395

Steal of the week

6 ▲ Portland, Ore. Set in the Darlington neighborhood, this two-bedroom bungalow is close to area parks, highly rated schools, and a farmers market. Recent improvements include a new roof, interior and exterior paint, a water line, refinished floors, and stainless steel appliances. Outside are a multilevel wood deck and fenced space for a lawn or garden. $319,900. Darryl Bodle II, Keller Williams, (503) 709-4632