Sofia Vergara And Joe Manganiello Relist Beverly Hills Mansion

If at first you don't find a buyer, try try again. Seems that's the motto Sofia Vergara and Joe Manganiello are following as the couple have relisted and repriced their Beverly Hills mansion. Offered last year for $19.6 million, the home is now listed for $17.995 million.

The famous couple extensively remodeled the Tuscan-style villa since Vergara purchased the home in 2014 for a reported $10.6 million. The seven bedroom residence now boasts a new chef's kitchen, landscaped large back yard with a pool and spa.

Per the listing, no expense was spared on the remodel and design. The formal living, family and dining rooms showcase dark hardwood floors, showstopper chandeliers, fireplaces and/or sets of French doors opening to the gardens.

Additional amenities include a full-size gym, home theatre and wine room.

Barry Peele of Sotheby's International Realty once again holds the listing, now joined by Santiago Arana of The Agency.
